

AMERICAN PROPOSAL
GIVEN TO MEDIATORS

PLAN PROVIDES FOR PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT TO SUCCEED HUERTA.

AGREES WITH OTHERS

Is in Practical Agreement With Proposals Previously Submitted by Mediators.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 9.—The mediators today submitted to the American delegates the counter proposal of the American government for the pacification of Mexico. The American plan is with few modifications the same as that which the mediators and Mexican delegates recently agreed upon and of which General Huerta approved. It provides for transferring the executive power in Mexico from the present regime to a new provisional government which will in a few months conduct election for president, vice-president and members of congress.

No names have been agreed upon between the Mexican or American delegates for the new provisional president or his cabinet, in fact, neither side has yet made its nomination.

The program of the proceedings is about as follows:
Within a day or two the Mexican plan and the American plan will have been dovetailed into one and a full conference of all parties will be called.

Final approval is not expected immediately from either parties, however, as the mediators then will ask the American delegates to ascertain the attitude of the constitutionalists. This may proceed through the Washington government or in any manner the delegates choose. The mediators will take a brief recess in the meantime.

Should there be any new suggestion from the constitutionalists the United States government will endeavor to arrive at a compromise with them. When an agreement is reached the result will again be placed before the mediation board and the Huerta delegates. The expectation is that if the constitutionalists are willing to discuss these plans with the American government, an agreement can be reached in a short time as the program already makes provision for liberal participation by the constitutionalists in the new provisional government.

The correspondence between the mediators and the constitutionalists is expected to be brought to an end in another day or two. The mediators are insistent on their original terms—declaration of an armistice and broadening the discussion from international to internal questions.

The constitutionalists are willing to meet the mediators on a satisfactory basis as to the latter's point, but they are absolutely determined against declaring any armistice.

Ask No Reparation.
An intimation that the United States would not demand reparation for the losses sustained at Vera Cruz or expect to be recompensed for the enormous expenditures already made in an attempt to pacify Mexico, was given to the Mexican delegates soon after the conference opened. This made it easy for the opposing delegates to meet harmoniously. It was responsible largely for the ease with which a general understanding was reached between them and it lent consistency to the American proposal that consideration be given to the constitutionalist cause.

The submission yesterday of the American plan accompanied by a verbal statement of the delegates removed all that this country was not disposed to make any unnecessary drain upon Mexico's already depleted finances.

It was announced by the mediation plenipotentiaries last night that they would make public their correspondence with the constitutionalists. The word was received today through the American delegates that General Carranza's answer to their latest note already had been dispatched to Washington and would be forwarded by Rafael Zubaran.

It was decided therefore to withhold publication for the present the communications from the mediators in which the note brought here from Juan F. Uruquidí referred to a paragraph saying that the difference between the United States and Mexico ought "not to be received without constitutionalists being represented."

The mediators asked if this meant that General Carranza was willing to enter the negotiations on original terms and if so said that delegates should be sent at once.

No answer from the constitutionalists which does not decide whether it will or not. They maintained that their military organization cannot be disrupted for a short period and held at rest without considering danger of losing their troops.

After a conference between the mediators and the Mexican delegates, it was learned that the counter proposals of the United States were not entirely satisfactory, but the Mexican delegates expressed confidence that in a few more conferences the points in this agreement would be adjusted. General predictions were that the Mexican plan would probably be agreed upon by the end of the week.

Cabinet Hears Appeal For Clemency From Attorney General Today

For Frank M. Ryan.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 9.—Attorney General McReynolds today took to the cabinet meeting his recommendation on the appeal for clemency for Frank M. Ryan, former president of the structural iron workers' union and twenty-nine other men convicted in the dynamite cases several years ago. While no official announcement was made, it was understood in circles close to the president that he was unfavorable to the reply. It was said that Mr. McReynolds took the ground that the men had been given a thorough trial and no good reason was offered by them at present for pardon. He did not think the president would appeal from the findings of the attorney.

REVERSE DECISION IN LIQUOR CASES

Decision By Supreme Court In Indian Liquor Cases Declares Large Territory "Dry."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Minneapolis, June 9.—When the United States supreme court reversed the decision of the district court in the so-called Indian liquor cases yesterday, the action not only had the effect of declaring "dry" a fifteen thousand square mile section in central and northern Minnesota, but may cause two-thirds of the cities in this state and Duluth to be placed in the prohibition column.

The territory included is in a treaty upon which the supreme court passed directly, covers a portion of the central part of Minnesota larger than three New England States. It includes all or a portion of thirteen counties.

Although the liquor question only directly affects the territory covered by a treaty of the government with the Chippewa Indians in 1855, it was believed by many familiar with the case that the decision is equally effective in regard to the two previous pacts covered by the greater portion of western Minnesota and from the prohibition clause in 1855 was occupied. If enforced literally, all of this city west of the Mississippi river and all of Duluth will be dry territory, unless congress sees fit to lift the liquor list.

Delay in Erection of Buildings at Stout Institute Will Be Subject of Court Squabble.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., June 9.—A writ of mandamus was served on the members of the board of trustees of the Stout Institute today to show cause in the supreme court on June 17, why an order should not be made permanent to compel the trustees to erect a modern building for the institute. Monomonic, as directed by the last legislature, the petition on which Attorney General Walter C. Owen gave his consent to bring the suit and on which Chief Justice W. Winslow of the supreme court allows the order of show cause to issue, states that the erection of the buildings are being delayed by order of Governor McGovern. It suggests that the reason the governor is causing this delay is that he is "desirous of creating public sentiment favorable to his continuance in public office, and desirous to that end of curtailing or postponing public expenditure." The petition is signed by Frank Pierce, a banker of Monomonic and the suit is brought in the name of Aylward, Davies and O'Brien.

It could not be learned here today as to who will defend the board in the suit. It is intimated by some members of the board that the attorney general will be asked for an opinion as to whether it is legal to hold up the appropriation. The petition shows that the Stout Institute is already over-crowded and that to alleviate conditions the legislature appropriated $200,000 for administrative offices, assembly hall and domestic science buildings. The petition says that on March 10, 1914, Governor McGovern appeared before the board of trustees and urged the delay of the buildings. After consideration the board directed its president to inform the governor "that it was impractical to suspend the building operations and that as the money had already been provided, in its opinion it would seem unwise not to proceed."

At a subsequent meeting of the board on April 21, after many of the arrangements had been made for architect, plans, etc., Governor McGovern again appeared before the board and told the members he would not approve the plans. Pierce claims that Governor McGovern's influence a resolution was passed by the board delaying the construction.

The detailed reason of Mr. Pierce for the governor desiring the delay of construction is thus set forth in the petition: "That your petitioner is informed and believes, Francis E. McGovern, governor of the state of Wisconsin, was at the time of said meeting last mentioned, and at the time next mentioned, in the city of Madison, the office of United States senator, that there has been and there were many protests from all parts of the state respecting the large increases in the state treasury and the unusually large appropriations made by the legislature of 1912-1913, which appropriations had been signed by his excellency Francis E. McGovern, and by reason of said facts he was desirous of office and desirous to that end of curtailing or postponing public expenditures in all possible directions, until after the primaries and elections for the year 1914 should be held, with the object and purpose of causing the electorate of the state to believe that he was desirous of promoting economy in public expenditures."

The petition says that on June 1, the institute had a junior class of 203 and an advanced class of 105, and 40 new students and a waiting list of 205 for the year 1914. It declares that since this money was raised in the tax budget last year and is already in the state treasury this building work should not be held up.

Attached to the document is a letter from Governor McGovern in which he says he believes he has the right to hold up buildings of this character. It is to determine whether that action is brought in the court and the writs were served today on the members of the board of trustees of the Stout Institute composed of H. B. Miles of Racine, Dean F. B. Ames of the University of Wisconsin, L. E. Reber and State Superintendent C. P. Cary of Madison; E. E. Winch, Marshfield; W. N. Miller, Eau Claire; Burt Malone, Oshkosh and Dona Dines, Milwaukee.

TURK WOMAN MAKING RAPID STRIDES IN REFORMING NATION

Highest Virtues of the Turkish Race Preserved Intact in Woman is Claim of Leader.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Constantinople, Turkey, June 9.—All but wiped from the face of Europe by the political calamities that the past three years have assailed it, Turkey still has within itself the power to rise phoenix-like to one of the most brilliant futures of a modern civilized nation. And this for the very simple reason that up to the present moment, one entire half of the Turkish people has conserved within itself, intact and uncontaminated all those primitive virtues and qualities of the race that once enabled it to sweep across a godly portion of Asia, Africa and Europe. That half of the Turkish people is just now coming into its own, and that half is the Turkish woman.

So declared Madame Rifaa, wife of Rifaa Bey, and leader of the feminist movement in Turkey. She declared it, too, with a zeal, a faith, a conviction and a fervor that could not be greater than her zeal and her faith and her conviction in the eternal tenets of the Koran itself. Madame Rifaa's explanation of the Turkish woman's consequent future salvation of the Turkish race and nation—took place in the solon of her home surrounded by the other women of the Turkish bourgeoisie whom she had invited to her home. As she talked Rifaa Bey, husband and high official of the Turkish cavalry, passed the inevitable Turkish cigarette to all present—Turkish and non-Turkish—and listened with sympathetic approval to his wife's statements. His attitude alone bore wonderful evidence of the progress feminism has made in Turkey. The Turkish woman of the Turkish race have been preserved intact in the Turkish woman," declared Madame Rifaa. "In fact it is really remarkable that centuries of sad almost foreign rule have not succeeded in sterilizing the soul of the Turkish woman or an inflexible warping on her heart. Coupled with this conservation of all the highest qualities of the Turkish race, in general, and the Turkish woman in particular, one quality particular to her which in itself is sufficient to restore the greatness of the Turkish people and that is her love of life. By love of life, I do not mean mere love of existence, but love of actual active living in the highest sense of the term. Our faith and our religion is an active one, and our life must be the same.

This inherent quality in the soul of the Turkish woman cannot be judged merely by observing as who have traveled, studied and come in contact with European civilization. It must be judged by the fact that the countless thousands of poor Turkish women, who went through the last great tragedy of our race—the tragedy of a lost war. When all their men had been killed, those who remained, heretofore segregated women, loaded onto the ox carts their miserable belongings, their babies and their helpless aged, and following the carts on foot, wandered upon hundreds of miles, founded new nests in which to re-establish their life. This they did not for religion, not for patriotism but for merely from a heroic desire to live, a desire that could not be conquered.

Adjustments in Wage Scale and Providing of New Safety Lamps Settle Differences.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Pittsburgh, June 9.—Adjustment of the wage scale in the Pittsburgh district resulted today in many of the forty thousand miners returning to work under a contract that is to be enforced for two years. Machine men are to be paid 60c a ton and miners are to be paid 50c a ton. Each miner will be provided with an electric safety lamp worn on his cap. The lamps are provided with power from storage batteries which is charged every day before the miner begins work. The lamp is surrounded with every possible safeguard, allowing a miner to work with the benefit of a strong light which he can direct to the point where it is most needed. Authorities say the lamps will cost the company approximately $250,000.

CARRANZA NOTE NOW

South American Envoys Inclined to Disregard Constitutional Unless He Agrees to Armistice.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, June 9.—With danger of a clash between the United States and Mexico having been averted, interest in the Mexican situation was turned to the mediation conference today after the receipt of a report that the South American envoys were expected to arrive at an early date with reference to bringing Carranza into the proceedings until he agrees to an armistice. Mediators stated they would make public all the correspondence that had passed between them and the constitutionalists. They were said to take the position that they had allowed Carranza insufficient time to reply to the note of last Tuesday.

Expect Carranza's Note.
The constitutionalist agents were expected to hear from Carranza today. Persons close to them asserted Carranza would not agree to an armistice with the Federals. The constitutionalist chief was believed to have arrived at Santiago yesterday. In his answer received here today it was planned to forward it to the mediators immediately. Belief was expressed that Carranza at an early date would determine the scope of mediation—whether it would be confined to differences between Huerta and the United States, or extended to a general discussion of Mexican affairs. The Federal agents and American envoys continued their negotiations which promised to reach a point where a protocol finally might be drafted within a day or two.

Both sides presented to the mediation conference a plan for Mexican pacification. They were said to be practically the same in principle, contemplating the establishment of a new provisional government, which would provide for an early general election for permanent administration. Suggestions from Niagara Falls that the Mexican delegates were assuming that the United States would deal with Carranza if he did not enter the conference immediately, drew from persons in touch with the Constitutional agency a reiteration that the public internal affairs would not be taken up for settlement. However, many confidently persisted that a way would be found that would result in a broadening of the mediation's scope.

Chicago, June 9.—The victory for the famous contralto came when Supreme Judge Sullivan instructed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the complainant.

The hearing was marked principally by the methodical letters introduced in support of the charge that Rapp should no longer be the husband of the Diva and the repeated intimations that the defense would prove allegations against the singer which would offset the conduct charged against her husband.

Not attempt was made to contradict the authenticity of the letters credited to Rapp and written in affectionate words to Mrs. Catherine Wagner in a letter in which she is to take a leading part.

Mrs. Schumann-Heink showed her joy at the verdict and declared that she would start on her journey to the Wagnerian festival in which she is to take a leading part.

Chicago, June 9.—With the arrival of every train of delegates to the world's biennial conference of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the question of the endorsing of women's suffrage at the federation apparently assumed great prominence. It was the leading topic of conversation discussed today, as thousands of club women continued to pour into the city. Excitement was caused in the suffragette wing last night by a persistent rumor that the official board of the federation had endorsed a suffragette resolution at an executive session. The rumor was promptly denied, but that did not stop the eager discussion by suffragette leaders, who insisted that the assemblage of women would be unable to resist the pressure brought to bear by a large proportion of their members who are ardent admirers of the suffragette cause.

More than 4,000 women arrived yesterday, according to federation transportation headquarters, and 6,000 are expected today. The delegates will be guests at a concert tonight and the formal business of the conference will begin tomorrow.

The question of dress was the subject at some informal conferences among the delegates who were busy unpacking trunks today. It is understood the dark cloth suit and linen dress of business like cut will be worn during the day, while a more elaborate dress will take place at the reception at the art institute Thursday night. In spite of the resolution against French styles, it is said that on that occasion some of the most striking gowns ever imported from Paris will be exhibited for the first time.

The equal suffrage element of the general federation of women's clubs, which meets in biennial session here tomorrow night, today claimed a victory in a preliminary skirmish as a result of which women's suffrage organizations may be allowed representation in the convention on an equality with non-political clubs.

Every train brought delegates and the headquarters was busy to the effect that real practical politicians were working way below the average to keep the prohibition question from arising in the convention.

DRAMA CLUB ACTORS SCORE BIG TRIUMPH

FIRST THEATRICAL PRODUCTION OF DRAMATIC SOCIETY WINS MERITED SUCCESS.

IN DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

"Borrowed Spectacles" Presented With True Artistic Appreciation by a Capable Cast.

Presenting two delightful comedies in a style which would have done credit to experienced players, members of the cast in the two productions staged last evening at the Dramatic Society, scored a deserved triumph. Skilled acting, keen and careful character delineation, subtle comedy drawn naturally and with true artistic conception, tasteful costuming and staging, were elements which combined to achieve the uniform success.

In spite of the melting heat of the June evening the theatre was completely filled by a thoroughly appreciative audience which was ever ready with applause and quick to notice particularly clever pieces of acting.

Two comedies were presented, the first a one-act sketch by Lady Gregory, "The Workhouse Ward," which served as an excellent prelude to the more difficult three-act masterpiece adapted from the French by Sidney Grundy, "Borrowed Spectacles."

In the latter comedy there were two members of the cast who stood out as particularly worthy of credit, and upon them rested very largely the success or failure of most of the comedy lines. Frank R. Doane as Benjamin Goldfinch, the leading character, and Andrew J. Gibbons as Uncle Gregory. Due to their faithful and accurate presentation of these eccentric characters there was no change for interest to lag during the rather leisurely working out of the plot.

Upon Mr. Doane, particularly, devolved the brunt of the work. There were few lines which were not on the stage, he had by far the larger number of lines and the peculiar and important part of the plot hinged upon his ability to faithfully and to the point of the large and kindly, but somewhat elderly landlord in the first half of the play and then to turn over completely and delineate the exactly opposite qualities, to be in fact the prototype of the well-known, hard-boiled, exacting, selfish, suspicious, unfeeling, business-saturated Uncle Gregory, who "knew this man and that man," or in modern expression was "wise" to all the ways and means of swindlers, real and imagined.

Such was the role which Mr. Doane assumed and he was equally successful in both the roles. He rendered a really touching manner the old gentleman who had not the courage to raise his rents, who could not even hear to collect his rents if he thought his tenants needed the money. When a shoemaker called to collect a bill for shoes which he ordered unnecessarily and merely out of the kindness of his heart, although the tradesman had waited months in arrears with his rents, the kind old man not only forbears to press collection, but actually orders more shoes, pays his bill and makes a gift of a stove besides in response to the plea of poverty.

When the old friend, Mr. Lorimer, a part taken in able manner by Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister, calls to ask for a loan of 15,000 pounds to save him from utter business ruin, he responds at once as though it were a trifle. In all this Doane was excellent, most realistic.

The advent on the scene of Uncle Gregory, begins the real comedy of the piece. His doubts, suspicions, and everything he knows how to get his money and he knows how to keep it. Stinginess of the hoastful type is his predominant characteristic, and he secures his brother's money, "easy" would be the present day term to use.

In this rather difficult and exacting role Mr. Gibbons was at home. At all times he appeared confident, natural with no hint of restraint. In places where he roared and bragged, always philosophizing, he was most effective and his appearance on the stage was anticipated and welcomed with applause by the audience.

In the last half of the piece, Benjamin Goldfinch, Mr. Doane's role, again takes the center of interest. In his first awakening to the swindlers who have been perpetrated upon him because of his kind heart, he is so astonished that his glasses fall to the floor broken, and he borrows Uncle Gregory's. These spectacles work the changes in his character and transform him into the suspicious frame of mind of Uncle Gregory. Thus transformed there is plenty of chance for comedy of a rare sort and all was most admirably presented. Sufficient to say that the ending is a happy one.

For the other parts, which did not require the portrayal of as complex characters, much of praise is due. Miss Verne Lanza as the young Mrs. Goldfinch was at all times charming and winsome. She appeared at ease on the stage and acted with the required grace and dignity. Miss Goldie Dowd as Lucy Lorimer gave a realistic and expressive interpretation of her part, and Miss Jessie J. Dandley as Charlotte, the maid, the only other female character, carried her role in the most impressive manner. Charles E. Noyes as Dick, Uncle Gregory's son, spendthrift, heavily in debt, at his wit's end to know how to extricate himself, and looking for a way to appeal to his father who believes him to be a successful business man, gave a clever, straightforward reading of the part. Harold L. Jones as Percy, Benjamin Goldfinch's son, the model of filial perfection, in contrast to Dick who is inclined to deceit, a quality to which he is driven, however, was thoroughly at ease and aware of the demands of his part. William Hied as James, the butler, did excellent work, while Martin Kennedy and William Pouchon as tradesmen were effective in their roles. The cast was well balanced and well selected, reflecting most creditably upon Mrs. Janet B. Day, who had charge of rehearsals.

The prelude, "The Workhouse Ward," was a clever sketch in which Brown and Martin Kennedy, who interpreted the parts of the quarrelsome inmates of the almshouse who, though enemies with their tongues, could not stand to be separated when fornicating, were a faithful reading of the part of the sister to one of the destitute inmates.

The productions last night reflected most creditably on the abilities of the members of the cast and upon the dramatic society which has firmly entrenched itself as one of the worthwhile organizations of Janesville.

CHURCH CONDITIONS MOST FLOURISHING

Encouraging Reports Received at Annual Meeting of Presbyterian Church Last Evening.

Last evening at 7:30 in the community rooms of the First Presbyterian church, that society and congregation held its annual meeting. P. H. Korst and Stewart B. Heddles were elected trustees, and W. H. Blair, O. W. Allison, D. C. Barker were elected elders.

The reports from each society and organization in the church indicated every department of church life to be in excellent condition. The treasurer reported a balance on hand and all bills paid.

The time of the annual meeting was changed to coincide with the fiscal year, which closes March 31st each year, except when that date falls upon a Sabbath, in which event the year closes April 1st.

The following persons, S. M. Smith, Will McVicar, Mrs. Henry Hanson, W. H. Blair, A. P. Lovejoy, were elected to serve upon a committee of estimate. This committee will go over the church to estimate the repairs needed, submitting their report at a meeting of the congregation to be called in September, 1914.

ALUMNI YEAR FOR ANNUAL RECEPTION

Much Disappointment is Prevalent Among Old Grads, Over Disbandment of Yearly Function.

Despite the efforts on the part of many old grads to continue with the annual alumni banquet and reception to the new graduates, the school authorities have set their foot down, and declare that for the present, at least, the function will be dispensed with.

The alumni figure that this affair is the only time during the year that the various graduating classes from olden days can get together in a body, to meet the fresh graduates. In past years, the receptions have been a decided success, but failure to meet expenses last June seems to be the only reason given for abandoning the old grads' reunion.

In the list of old grads, as many as five hundred names of those who had been at the banquet, can be found. There is at least that many interested in the Janesville school, not to speak of the many hundreds outside of the county or state, who would get back for the reunion were it possible. Last June's affair was attended by few, due to the fact that it was impossible for the graduates to get back for the reunion.

There is every hope that a revival will come by another June, if not this month, to satisfy the minds of those who once enjoyed four years at the local institution of learning.

WANTS $50,000 FROM ILLINOIS OFFICIAL; HE WED HER ILLEGALLY; THEN BALKED

Mary Quinlan Kuhn-Brady.

James J. Brady, state auditor of Illinois, has been sued for $50,000 for breach of promise by his wife, Mary Quinlan Kuhn-Brady. The pair were secretly married on April 28, 1913. But the marriage wasn't binding, as the woman had just been divorced from another husband, and according to Illinois law a divorce cannot be legally married within a year of the date of the divorce. But the woman says Brady promised to marry her as soon as the year was up. He has grown tired of her in the meantime, so she wants $50,000 heart balm.

STATE G. A. R. MEN MEET AT MADISON

will form at Monona avenue under the direction of Marshal-in-Chief Col. H. L. Farr and aides. Military and civic societies of the city will join in the march.

June 11, 2:30 p. m.—Business of the encampment, at which time an address will be delivered to the encampment by the commander in chief, Washington Gardner.

June 11, 8 p. m.—Department annual campfire will be held in the University gymnasium. The commander in chief, Washington Gardner, will deliver the main address on that occasion.

The Woman's Relief Corps will hold their session in the First Methodist church, corner of Wisconsin avenue and West Dayton street. The ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic in the First Congregational church, corner West Washington avenue and North Fairchild street. The Sons of Veterans in Woodman Hall, 21 West Main street.

At the business meetings of the encampment the election of the department commander will take place. W. J. McKay of the local G. A. R. post is a candidate for the honor. Mr. McKay is general chairman of committees for the encampment. Mrs. H. C. Noyes is secretary. E. E. Steenrod is treasurer. H. L. Farr chairman of the finance committee, and B. B. Clark chairman of the ways and means committee.

This reunion will be notable as perhaps the last at which Wisconsin veterans will hold reunion on old Camp Randall, the famous mobilization field for Wisconsin troops in the days of '61. Here on Wednesday afternoon a campfire and speeches will be held. Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris as the speaker. He will be introduced by Voyta Wrabetz, commander of the Madison camp of Sons of Veterans.

The encampment will formally open tonight with a meeting of the council of administration at the Park hotel, and a reception by Lucius Fairchild post and the Woman's Relief Corps, at the Elks clubhouse. The opening business session will be held Wednesday morning in the assembly chamber of the capitol. Prayer will be offered by Department Chaplain A. J. Hood. The welcoming addresses will be made by Mayor A. H. Kaysner and Governor H. C. Sawyer, and responses by department heads. Business will occupy most of the afternoon until the march to Camp Randall at 5 o'clock. A mass meeting will be held in the evening at the university gymnasium under the direction of the Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Agnes C. Gordon, Waukegan, department president, presiding. On the third day, business sessions, the annual parade around the capitol square, and the department annual campfire in the evening at the gymnasium will be the order. The address on the latter occasion will be by Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army.

For the first time the new capitol dome will be illuminated. A flag waves on the pinnacle at the top of the almost completed dome of the capitol. It will be the first and last time a flag was ever placed there, as the sixteen foot statue to surmount the dome will preclude raising of a flag. Flagpoles are on each wing, however.

The Milwaukee delegates arrived at ten o'clock headed by the Wisconsin veterans drum corps, they marched to the Capital Square, where the registration tent is pitched. Two special cars brought the Baraboo delegation at one P. M. The registration reached one hundred, and the indications are that this will be the largest encampment in many years.

Samuel Bellesfield of Rock Valley, Iowa, weighing three hundred pounds, and Throp Morehouse of South Madison, weighing one hundred and twenty pounds, held the heavy and lightweight championships. Both entertained with leopfrog antics.

GOOD STORY OF STAGE LIFE

"Gripping" is a Mild Term Applied to "The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth," Says Ithaca Journal.

The Ithaca (N. Y.) Journal says of "The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth," by Isabel Gordon Curtis, which is to be published serially in this paper:

"The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth" is a story of the New York stage with a touch of newspaper life thrown in once and awhile. A star comedian and a newspaper man and the latter's sister play the three big parts. The two men in the opening chapter play a game of poker, the stakes being the future of the men. The comedian loses and then follows so much of interest that it is with regret that the last page is reached.

It is such a story that if much of the plot is told a great deal of the enjoyment would be taken from the reader. It is enough to say that the loser of the poker game afterwards wrote a wonderful play, but because of the wager he had to make he was compelled to give the play to the other man, who, for a time at least reaped the glory of being the most successful playwright of the day. Gripping is a mild term to apply to this story.

A remarkable story, which excels in dramatic interest at least almost everything published this winter. It is more than a merely thrilling story—it is a deeply psychological study, to which attaches a more than temporary interest.—Book News Monthly.

Sport Snap Shots

It is a rather queer situation that makes Willie Ritchie the greatest champ even though he has been soundly and decisively thrashed. It would appear that after Charley White, convinced every observer that he could lick the champ that White would be entitled to regard himself as the head of the class. But it was a no-decision affair and so no change of titles can take place until the two boys meet in a town where a decision can be given. White, however, is prospering by his victory. His stock has gone up most rapidly and he is knocking down quite a little extra change on the side. At present he is engaged in vaudeville houses in Chicago, telling the audiences how he managed to lick Ritchie and how he plans to do it again. And quite a few are willing to believe that he will do it again when he meets Ritchie in the longer mill.

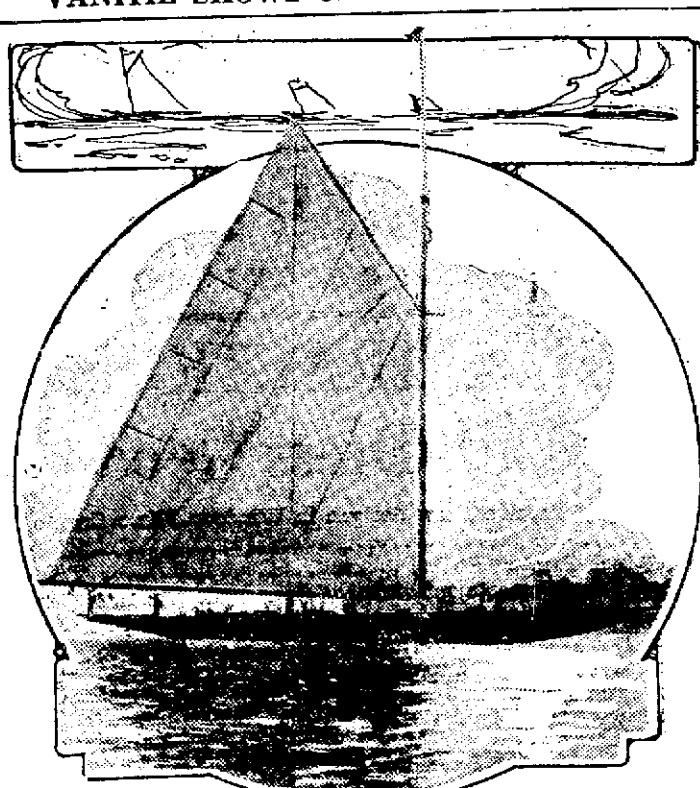

Charley Somers, owner of the Cleveland Naps and the Cleveland A. A. Sniders, would feel pretty blue if these were the only teams he owned. Both Cleveland organizations have presented a very sorry picture in their races this last year and their behavior cannot be a source of great delight to Somers. However, these are not the only teams Somers owns. He has at least two top-notchers. The New Orleans team in the Southern league belongs to Somers and the N. O. team is leading the league. Also the Waterbury team at the top of the Eastern league belongs to Somers.

Fred Carisch, the Nap catcher, owned an auto when he was playing with St. Paul. Mike Kelly, manager, announced one day that Carisch was to go to Columbus and play with the Senators. Fred had been spending more of his time and thought on his car than he had on the game and Kelly figured it out that he didn't want auto owners on his team. So he disposed of Carisch, who was none the less a very acceptable player. Since that time Fred has had lots of fun with his car, but he remembers to give baseball a little attention occasionally, too.

Johnson, the Fed Indian twirler, is now carefully dodging Illinois when on his tours from one Fed town to another. The injunction restraining him from appearing in the box for the Feds only holds good in Illinois, but should Johnson step into the state he would be pinched sure enough. He can play with the Feds if he wants to but he is in contempt of court in Illinois and will be thrust into the durango if he enters the state.

A number of Cleveland sport writers agree that the auto bug is what ails the Naps at present. Last season several of them had one and this year the whole team is fitted out with them. They ride to the park in their own cars and after the game they are away and over the hills on a tour. Perhaps if Birmingham could manage to swipe all the tires the team might win for a week.

Captain Bill Dennis was in command. The crew consisted of Mr. Cochran, the owner, enthusiastic over the team work of his crew, while Mr. Cochran, the owner, and William Gardner, the designer, who were on board during the trial, expressed themselves as well satisfied with the performance.

WEAK BATSMAN ONCE BUT HE ISN'T NOW

According to those who knew Frank Baker, the home-run clouter of the Philadelphia Athletics, in his early days, the demon hitter was not feared when he first broke into organized baseball. He was an indifferent batter, so it is said. Unfortunately for other clubs in the American league, this isn't true any more.

"Pleased to Meet You."

The Americans have a polite habit of being presented to a new acquaintance of uttering the words, "Pleased to meet you," although upon what the pleasure can rest, or how they know that it is a pleasure, or why an ordinary incident which is not the fulfillment of any anticipation and which may turn out to be very disagreeable, should be pronounced at sight to be pleasant, I have never been able to understand. — London Saturday Review.

SUGAR AND THE TARIFF.

The expected has happened, so far as the beet sugar industry is concerned, and the only satisfaction is found in the fact that twelve American factories are closed this year. If the consumer has been benefited, it does not appear on the surface. Here are some statistics, recently compiled, that tell the story.

"The department of agriculture has just published statistics concerning the domestic beet sugar industry for the 1913-14 campaign. According to the figures of the department, the beet sugar output for this campaign was the largest on record, amounting to 733,401 short tons, or 40,845 tons in excess of the previous year. It is extremely unfortunate that with the progress being made by this industry, it suddenly should be thwarted by a reduction in the tariff and free sugar staring it in the face in 1916. Since the last campaign twelve factories have closed their doors and will not operate during the coming campaign, which will mean a great reduction in domestic beet sugar production for 1914-15. According to authentic data, the following factories have decided to cease operations: Fremont and Ottawa, Ohio; Janesville, Wis.; Marine City, Mich.; Holly, Las Animas and Lamar, Colo.; Hamilton City and Alvarado, Cal.; Glendale, Ariz.; Fallon, Nev., and Waverly, Iowa. These factories have an average aggregate daily slicing capacity of over 7,000 tons of beets, and their closing down means that about 58,000 acres of sugar beet land will have to be devoted to other crops, and the loss to sugar beet farmers of a market for nearly 500,000 tons of beets.

"During the year 1913-14 there were seventy-one factories in operation, and the average length of campaign was eighty-five days. The beet acreage amounted to 580,000, or an increase of 24,706 acres over last year. On this acreage 5,559,452 short tons of beets were produced, the average yield per acre being 9.76 tons as against 9.41 tons in 1912-13. The average value of beets per ton on the farm was $5.34, a decrease of 48 cents per ton from the previous year. The farmers received $30,022,000 for beets during the last year, while in 1912-13 they received $30,406,000. The percentage of sugar extraction was slightly lower during the past year than the previous one, being 12.96 as against 13.26 per cent in 1912-13.

"The department figures show that about 2,500 pounds of refined sugar were yielded on an average by an acre of beets, and for each ton of beets the average for the past three years has ranged from 237 to 265 pounds of refined sugar. The average value of an acre of sugar beets during the past three years was from $52.12 to $58.74. The average output per factory increased from 9,083 short tons of sugar in 1912-13 to 10,330 short tons in 1913-14, while the average quantity of beets used by each factory in 1913-14 ranged from 71,567 to 79,711 tons. The area from which each factory drew its supply of beets ranged from 7,180 to 8,168 acres.

"According to this report, the total amount of sugar produced within the United States proper from the crops of 1913 exceeded 1,000,000 tons. In the previous year, owing to crop failure in Louisiana, the sugar production of the United States proper was only about 885,000 tons."

This all goes to show that the American people sometimes need a guardian. Not content to let well enough alone, we clamored for free trade, and now find ourselves in competition with the labor of the old world, for sugar is not the only thing effected.

Capital in many industries is already seeking retirement, and labor is as sure to feel it as time is to pass. The man with a job will do well to appreciate it for there will be more men than jobs before snow flies.

THE COMMITMENT LAW.

There has been so much discussion pro and con of the commitment law and its enforcement that it is interesting to note that if the so-called commitment law is enforced according to its intention it does not provide as easy an escape from punishment as some appear to believe. In the first place the sheriff is probably under no compulsion to provide work for the convicted person. The law says: "Any person so convicted shall be required to perform any hard labor as provided for by the sheriff anywhere within said county." If the sheriff doesn't provide work the party will languish in the jail as formerly.

Furthermore it is up to the sheriff as to what kind of labor shall be provided for the prisoner. So if the law is given its proper application, the convicted person will be in no hurry to take the jail sentence in lieu of the fine.

The convict is not allowed the use of intoxicating liquors. It is the duty of the sheriff to make a contract in writing for the employment of the convicted person and at the end of each week to pay over to the person designated in the commitment the amount of the earnings of the convict. The convict is at all times in the custody of the sheriff and may not leave the county as the limits of the jail are made co-terminous with the county limits. The convict if again arrested for any offense can be arraigned under the second offense act and sent to state prison. The jail record of conviction may be shown in any court, not only under the second offense act, but by way of impeachment.

If the sheriff should conclude to hire some of the convicts out to the city to work on the streets or to do farm labor the commitment law would not be looked upon as a joke.

The prisoner does not have, or should not have, his choice of vocation and if convicted in a court of record and sentenced to a jail term might be put at work in the stone quarry as well as on a farm.

Thus far this season the Janesville baseball team have given good accounting of themselves and deserve much credit for the work they are doing in keeping alive the sport in this section of the state. There was a time when Janesville was one of the few small cities that boasted of a ball team that could beat the best that were then in existence. The days of the old Mutuals will be recalled with pleasure by some of the older residents who remember baseball when it was baseball and no gloves, masks or chest protectors were essentials to a game.

Fifty years ago this summer the great struggle between the North and South was coming to a close. Battles were being fought that have left their mark in the history of this nation. At Madison this week the veterans of the great struggle residing in Wisconsin are holding their annual reunion. They feel just as young as they did fifty years ago and just as patriotic as when they marched out to answer the call of the president for volunteers.

One of the busiest places these days is the Park Association grounds where a force of men are getting ready for the coming race meet and fair by erecting new buildings and constructing a new grandstand and otherwise putting the grounds in shape. When it is all completed it will be one of the best equipped fair grounds in the state and a credit to Janesville.

It is pretty near time that the new cars for the Janesville Traction company arrived on the scene. They have long been promised and the management should remember that even a long patient suffering people sometimes rise in their might if disappointed time after time by false promises.

Huerta is like the king who marched his men up a hill and then marched them down again. He also feels certain that "He who fights and runs away will live to fight another day." Meanwhile the waters continue to flow over Niagara Falls and the peace envoys enjoy the A-B-C deliberations.

The president's idea of using a tent for a summer white house is not such a bad one after all. He can enjoy the cool breezes on the white house lawn while his secretary of state cavorts around the chautauqua circle, takes part in a program with jugglers and dance and song artists.

The man with the small garden may think he is helping solve the high cost of living problem and while he obtains wonderful results in the way of toothsome dishes fresh from the soil, he pays for it all trying to keep down the weeds in good, honest hard labor.

Survival of the fittest appears to be the order of the day when it comes to solving the political problem in the state at the present time. The republicans now have four candidates out for the United States senatorship nomination and the field is not yet closed.

This is the fishing season and wonderful stories are being told of the size of the one that escaped just when he was to be hauled into the boat. It is a strange fact that the biggest one always gets away.

The automobile is fast becoming a necessity in business and every day life and one wonders how soon the aeroplanes will likewise play their part in the busy life of the world.

On The Spur of The Moment

A June Song.
(Written by Mendel & Sons.)
Here comes the bride,
Get on to her stride,
Who is the old gink who walks by her side?
That is her dad.
Does he feel sad?
Not on your life. It is the best luck he's had.
Who is the pale guy, full of gloom?
Speak softly, friends, for that is the groom.
Who are the people trying to look pleasant?
They are the guests. Each one brought a present.
Look at the best man, so happy and gay.
For it is not his funeral day.
The dominie.
Wise man is he.
He's contemplating the size of the fee.
Hard knot is tied.
Ordeal is over. The gang's satisfied.

His Illness.
"I don't feel well this morning," said Mr. Piety Hill, "and I don't believe I can eat any breakfast."
"You don't look well," said Mrs. Piety Hill, "but you were all right yesterday."
"Yes, I felt first rate yesterday," but I'm all to the bad this morning."

"What the matter?"
"I think I have lumbago."
"Lumbago doesn't affect the appetite and, anyhow, you never had any lumbago in your life."
"Well, I guess it isn't lumbago, I guess it is pneumonia. Either that or neuralgia. Yes, I'm quite sure it is neuralgia."
"Neuralgia, fiddlesticks!"
"Well, maybe it is appendicitis. That's what it is, appendicitis. I ought to have known it all along. It's something terrible, I know that. Maybe it's smallpox."
"Don't try to string me," snapped Mrs. Hill. "I know what you have got, and if you'd gone to bed at 9 o'clock last night you wouldn't have had it. I'll call at your office for you at 5 this afternoon and bring you home. A little of the simple life for years."

Unusual Wedding Gifts.
As the June wedding season is here, we are receiving many letters inquiring what is unusual, but appropriate to give in the way of wedding presents. People have given cutglass pickle dishes and gold mantel clocks so long that they yearn to be original.
To aid these people we have compiled the following list of unusual gifts:
Cork leg.
Silver plates for casket.
Tombstone.
Picnic pump for beer keg.
Seven-passenger touring car.
Two pairs of fur earmuffs.
Maxim silencer.
Pulmotor.
Ally and iron wash board.
One dozen celluloid collars.
Wheel chair.

Then.
When the earth has ceased revolving,
And the stars have faded out,
When the sun is cold and leaden,
And no politicians shout;
When there is an end to trouble,
And to poverty and pain,
When there are no malfeasances,
And there is no greed for gain;
When the firmament is gloomy
And the moon has ceased to shine—
When the world has met its finish
Then—Huerta will resign.

Signs of the Times.
It is now claimed that thoughts may be transmitted without speech. Pshaw! That's nothing. Many a woman can transfer her thoughts to her husband by kicking him on the shin under the table.

Porfirio Diaz will not return to Mexico. When he went to Europe he didn't leave anything worth returning for.
Now that the June wedding season is on it is probable that we will witness a bumper pickle dish crop. It is probable that the queen of the May, who appeared May 1, by this time is getting over her cold. Speaking of shipwrecks, several senatorships are apt to be wrecked on the Panama Canal.

Gen. Obregon has taken Tepic, Tepic, by the way, is a town, not a piece of medicine.
Once merely a local institution, the Annapolis club promises to become international.
It is a very ungrateful neighbor who doesn't keep his lawn mowed in good repair so you can use it with-out stopping to tinker it an hour or two.

Weary Listener.
"You can't answer my arguments," triumphantly exclaimed the man of aggressive loquacity. "No," replied the sarcastic person; "I haven't a chance. I can't stay awake long enough."

HE LEADS THE BEST TROOPS IN MEXICO

General Blanquet.

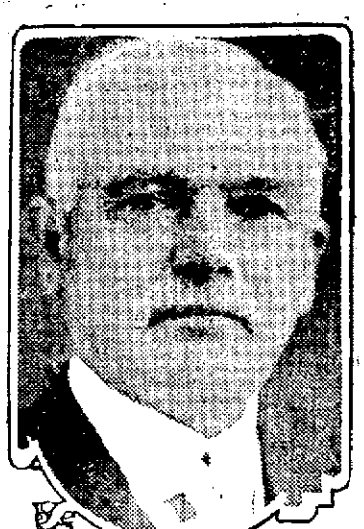

General Blanquet commands the crack troops of the Mexican army. He was the main factor in raising Huerta to his present position, and idolizes the dictator, who in turn respects Blanquet's valor and integrity. It was General Blanquet who arrested President Francisco I. Madero in February, 1913. He was Madero's military genius.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Why "Vudor" Porch Shades Are Needed:

You need Vudor Porch Shades to get the most out of your porch. To make it a spot where you can rest or work on the hottest days—outdoors, yet free from the sun's glare and heat.

You can do this with Vudor Porch Shades; you can add to the house another room cool and shady, where you may enjoy every refreshing breeze, in secluded comfort. Vudor Porch Shades are very durable and will last many seasons.

Another good feature about them is the peculiar fact that those sitting on the porch can see out, but passersby cannot see in. In other words you have complete privacy and can use the porch or veranda the same as an inside room with infinitely more comfort on hot days.

Vudor Porch shades are just the things for "boxing in" porches or sleeping balconies that are to be used as outdoor sleeping or living apartments.

Vudor Porch Shades are made of thin, flat strips of wood of the kind that best endures out of door exposure. These strips are closely bound together with Seine Twine, in a lock stitch weave.

They are artistically stained in soft, pleasing colors. These colors are weather proof, and will not fade or crack off.

The shades can be instantly raised or lowered (operating on the principle of a theatre curtain) and are easily and readily put up.

This is Vudor Weather. Prices on page 6.

RING MAKES YOU REMEMBER

You Cannot Forget Because It is Constantly Asserting Itself.
The old joke about the fellow who went to the trouble to tie a string around his finger to remind him of some mission to be performed and then promptly and effectually forgetting the entire incident will be out of date when the memory ring which has been recently invented and patented shall come into general use. The new invention was probably suggested by the habit acquired by some persons who turn a seal ring

THIS RING IS A MEMORY JOGGER.
With the stone side in the palm of the hand, which makes itself in this position each time the hand is turned, it can such an uncomfortable thing that it can hardly be forgotten, and the wearer loses no time in getting the commission on his mind so that he can change his ring to its normal position. The new invention is of a peculiar shape, which makes itself even more assertive, and there is no relief until it has been removed or changed.

TANNER RETURNING FROM GREAT FALLS

Reports Received By Janesville Police
Credit Story That Supposed
Missing Farmer is Returning.

Telegrams received by Chief of Police P. D. Champion and the Harvard authorities credit the fact that Frank A. Tanner, the wealthy Harvard farmer, who was thought to have disappeared yesterday, is on his way home from Great Falls, Montana.
Last night the Janesville police in response to their inquiry received messages that Tanner was not to be found in St. Paul or Kenosha, North Dakota, but that he was on his way home from Great Falls, Montana. Tanner went to Great Falls, and it still remains somewhat of a mystery how he reached the Montana city if his ticket was not turned in by the Northwestern conductor. The police declare that they can learn nothing more until Tanner arrives.

SLUMP IN NUMBER OF SIGNATURES NEEDED

Peculiarity of Last Presidential Vote in Rock County is Responsible for Condition.

As a result of the peculiarity of the presidential vote in Rock county in 1912, candidates for county offices on the republican ticket at the September primary may secure a maximum of only 427 signatures on their nomination papers as compared with a maximum of 700 the year ago.
This is due to the fact that the presidential vote in the county was so badly split, a large part going to the progressive or bull moose party while the democrats were favored by a substantial majority.
James Buchanan of Center street, has returned from a short trip to Red Cedar Lake.
Mrs. George Snyder of Solon Mills spent the day Saturday in this city.

MANY NOVELTIES TO BE SEEN ON FOURTH

Committee in Charge of Celebration Promises Unique Features for the Coming Celebration.

When the average person agent says, "Something doing every minute," the public usually smiles, but just the same this is going to be true as regards the Janesville Fourth of July celebration this year. If the present plans of the arrangement committee are carried out, in fact, at the meeting held last evening, hard work was experienced to get all the scheduled events into one day and not have them conflict.
Owing to the fact that F. E. Lane, the general chairman of the committee, will be out of the city until a day or two before the Fourth, the general supervision of the celebration was placed in the hands of Louis Levy, Amos Rehberg and Joseph Connor. These gentlemen will have their hands full, but they have an enthusiastic staff of assistants who are as enthusiastic as they are over the general success of the venture.
Chairman Edward Amerphol of the Nonesuch circuit, reported that he had most encouraging prospects to announce. Every day brought new volunteers to add to his list of the many events that will be exhibited in the parade. Just previous to the start of the day to be delivered at the Court House Park by Hon. H. A. Cooper, M. C., at eleven further band music preceding the athletic events, which will be held at the conclusion of the morning program, from street entertainments on raised stands in various parts of the city, the forming and then the grand parade of the famous Nonesuch Bros. Circus at three o'clock. The parade will be followed by the auto parade in the evening, and two band concerts with the streets gaily illuminated, are mere outlines of the plan of entertainment for the Fourth of July celebration. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held on Thursday evening at the Gazette office, when matters of importance will be taken up and decided upon.

PERMITS BREATHING A Nose Bag Designed for the Horse

When He Eats Out.
A humane nose bag for the accommodation of the work horse when he is compelled to take his meals out as many of these animals are compelled to do frequently, has been sought for a long time and the one in the accompanying illustration seems to offer the desired convenience. The nose bag is mounted on a somewhat rigid frame and is supported from the upper and lower parts of the horse's collar so that it is held firmly in place in front of the animal and at the same time gives the horse all

OFFERS FREEDOM FOR THE HORSE.
The freedom of his head that may be desired. In addition to this advantage it also saves feed for the best of the valuable material of this character is lost in the endeavors of the animal to effect a transfer of the grain from the bottom of the bag to his mouth. This is generally accomplished by today's horse in a very wasteful manner and catching the grain in his mouth.

NONESUCH PARADE PLANS ROUND INTO FORM VERY RAPIDLY

Committee in Charge of This Feature of Coming Celebration Hold Important Meeting.

Unless all signs known to circusdom fall, the Nonesuch Bros. Circus parade, scheduled for July 4th, will be the biggest, brightest, funniest event ever attempted or consummated by Col. Nonesuch in his years of success here in Janesville. The committee who are assisting Col. Nonesuch, gathered this morning in conference and reviewed the situation of the past few days and found a wonderfully interested lot of participants. They have already booked a splendid lot of attractions from fellows within the limits of the city and the surrounding country. The sacred cow, the mermaids, ferocious jungle beasts and war tableaux, cow boys and Indians, all these will be seen, and more. The committee needs the assistance of every live wide awake individual in Rock County, so don't be bashful about offering your services—figure out a "stunt" and let the committee know what it is to be. There will be need for saddle horses, teams, riders and drivers; lots of fun in taking part, so don't miss coming in. Here are the names of the men on the committee: Edw. Amerphol, chairman, and the following: H. H. Bliss, marlund, Howard Clithero, H. H. Bliss.

FINED TEN DOLLARS ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Greeks Reading on Lincoln Street
Get Into Quarrel—One Given
Fine of Ten Dollars.

A. John got into a quarrel with some fellow Greeks last night at their boarding place on Lincoln street. The result was that he was fined ten dollars and costs by Judge Maxfield in the municipal court this morning.

The quarrel started when John, which is an American shortening of the name, that only a Greek could pronounce, attempted to get to his room in the boarding house after the owner of the place had locked him out. When he broke the lock and entered the place, John met a lively fellow who kept a small candy store on West Milwaukee street, received several scratches but not guilty to the assault and battery charge but after he had spent half an hour down in the city hall cell, he decided he would withdraw his plea and admit his guilt. E. D. McGowan appeared for the man in court and recommended a light fine.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC HEAVY ON BOTH LOCAL RAILWAYS

For the last week passenger traffic on both the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern railroads has been unusually heavy and all trains have been crowded. Since the summer tourists' rates became effective, June 1st, many are taking the opportunity to travel for vacation trips. This year the eastern rates are effective over two routes, which allows the traveler a different route on returning. A large number are passing through Janesville to transfer here for the Madison lakes and northern summer resorts. Closing of schools has also increased the traffic.

PASSING OF HOME RULE BILL STIRS ULSTER; TROUBLE FEARED

The feeling which has been aroused in Ulster by the passage of the Irish home rule bill is akin to a flame ready to burst into a conflagration that may rage indefinitely. Predictions range from a minimum of faction fighting between Orangemen and Nationalists to the maximum of organized rebellion by the covenanters. The home government, appreciating the situation, has drawn a cordon of torpedo boats in the harbor at Belfast, and coast guards are patrolling the Ulster coast.

"Just who got the vanished millions belonging to the stockholders of the New Haven railroad and how the deals were carried out by which these millions were diverted from the road's treasury to the pockets of favored financiers are questions which the interstate commerce commission expects to answer through the pending investigation into the New Haven's financial affairs."

This is the authoritative statement of the commission's purpose in forcing the examination of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven, and of other witnesses. Joseph W. Folk is chief counsel of the commission in its investigation. He declares the probe will be thorough and without mercy to the offenders.

JUNE BUGS CAUSING GREAT UNEASINESS.

Among Agriculturalists Who Fear Next Year's Crops Are Endangered by the Pests.

Already next year's meadows, pastures, and cornfields are threatened, the presence of vast armies of June bugs all over the state this year foretells the coming of millions of destructive white grubs to feed on next year's crops, for from this year's June bugs develop next year's grubs. These pests, which are always common, feed on the roots of corn, timothy and other grasses, and unless they are checked, they will exact an ever increasing toll from the farmers' crops and profits.

They can be controlled, according to J. G. Sanders of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin, by plowing up this fall as much as possible of the old meadows, intended for the planting of corn the following spring, and pastures, and cleaning the grass and refuse from roadsides and fences, thus killing the grubs by exposure during the winter. By following a short rotation including at least one year of clover, the pests are prevented from getting a start, and are kept from doing much damage.

JENNY LIND

The Swedish Nightingale of the World's Song Music.

It was Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale, who was the first to strike the popular chord with the world's favorite melody, "Home, Sweet Home." She was a little country girl in Sweden and was nine years old when she attracted the notice of an actress who sent her to Stockholm.

Conservatory of Music at Stockholm. At the age of ten she sang before the Royal Court and later made her debut as Agatha in "Der Freischütz."

Her engagement in the United States was made under the management of the circus man, Phineas T. Barrum, who paid her $300,000 for one season.

She married Otto Goldschmidt, of Hamburg, who for many years played her accompaniments. "Home, Sweet Home" is scarcely ever sung in public that it does not recall the memory of Jenny Lind, the singer whose golden notes will never be forgotten.

"Home, Sweet Home," as sung by Jenny Lind, is to be found, of course, in "Heart Songs"—now being eagerly called for by many of this paper's readers at its business office. Over four hundred songs in one volume—all of them favorites. Read the coupon elsewhere in today's issue, and own this songbook treasure for yourself.

AUTHOR OF A GREAT STORY

Isabel Gordon Curtis.

Isabel Gordon Curtis, author of "The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth," is one of the best-known literary women of America and for years her name has been familiar to readers of household and farm periodicals and of fiction. "She was born fifty years ago in Huntley, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and after receiving an academic education in that country, came to the United States in 1886. For several years she did general literary work, and then she was successively literary editor of the New England Homestead and Farm and Home, dramatic editor of the Springfield Homestead, associated with her husband, Francis Curtis, as editor of the Birmingham Chronicle; associate editor of Good Housekeeping, and editor of the woman's department of Success Magazine. In addition to all these activities, she has found time since 1903 to do a great deal of general magazine work and juvenile story writing, and in recent years has written several novels that proved highly successful and popular. Some of these deal with official and social life in Washington, with which Mrs. Curtis is thoroughly familiar and which she portrays with vivid reality.

The greatest work Mrs. Curtis has produced, "The Lapse of Enoch Wentworth," is a story of the New York stage and New York newspaper life. It is a story with a high moral purpose, and one which holds the interest of the reader to the end. The reviewers generally have pronounced it one of the greatest of American novels.

It is with considerable pleasure that we are able to announce that we have arranged for the serial publication rights on this story, the first installment of which will appear soon. We earnestly advise all readers to watch for it.

Friends of Stoughton Woman Who Drank Acid Believe Her Weather
Unbalanced Her Mind.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Stoughton, Wis., June 9.—Opinion is divided here as to whether Mrs. Otwell Goss drank carbolic acid with intent to commit suicide or whether she took it accidentally. When Goss returned from a fishing trip he found his wife dead on the floor. The woman was 22 years old and the mother of four small children, the eldest six years. Friends believe the intense heat unbalanced her mind, leading to self-destruction.

FAMOUS ROSE FESTIVAL IS ON AT PORTLAND, ORE.

Portland, Oregon, June 9.—With the crowning of Miss Thelma Hollingsworth as queen of Rosaria, Portland today entered into a week of festivities in honor of the rose which has made the city famous the world over. This will be the eighth annual Rose Festival to be held. Thousands of visitors, many from the Eastern states, were in the city.

The queen, with her eleven maids of honor, entered the city from the mythical "Land of Rosaria" on a gayly bedecked royal barge, escorted by the largest and most picturesque decorated squadron ever assembled in the local harbor. The sirens of hundreds of merchantmen, pleasure craft and other vessels, shrieked a welcome to "Her Majesty."

SISTER THERESA SAINTED:
DIED FOURTEEN YEARS AGO.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Rome, June 9.—The Sacred Congregation of Rites today voted practically unanimously to admit the cause of beatification and canonization as a saint of Sister Theresa of the Infant Jesus. Should the canonization finally take place it will be that of the most recently recognized saint in vatican history, as Sister Theresa died only 14 years ago.

She was a nun in the Carmel convent at Lisieux, France, and as a result of the numerous miracles that are declared to have wrought through her acquired world wide fame and the name of "The Little Flower of Jesus."

As yet it has not been made public just which of her miracles have been selected by the Sacred Congregation of Rites to be passed upon as establishing her right to be canonized as a saint. The latter process is also a very lengthy one and it is not likely to be concluded before fifteen or 20 years.

TYPHOID FEVER BANISHED FROM UNCLE SAM'S ARMY.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, June 9.—Typhoid fever has been banished from the United States Army. Major F. F. Russell in a recent issue of "The Journal of the American Medical Association" makes this statement and says the appearance of typhoid is due directly to typhoid vaccination. In the entire enrollment of over 90,000 men in barracks or camps in the United States, Philippines, China, Porto Rico, Cuba and Hawaii there were only 123 cases of typhoid. Two of these were recruits, who, after five days enlistment, developed the disease. Out of the entire body of 90,000 men only one case occurred in an inoculated soldier the entire year.

This case was a soldier in the battalion on duty in China. All three of these cases fully recovered. It is pointed out that typhoid fever has been for centuries the most dangerous disease to soldiers and that every army, whether on post duty or in the field, has expected to pay a heavy toll of sickness and death in this disease.

Don't Lose Sleep Coughing at Night.

Take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. The very first dose surprises you. It glides down your throat and spreads a healing, soothing coating over the inflamed tickling surface. That's immediate relief. It loosens up the tightness in your chest, stops stuffy wheezy breathing, eases distressing, racking, tearing coughs, soothes the irritated, inflamed bronchial tubes and air passages. Children love it. It is mildly laxative—as a cough medicine should be, and does not upset or distress the most sensitive stomach. Refuse any substitute. Contains no opiates. W. T. Sherer.
